Most Memorable Experiences:

The opportunity to serve as the president of the ASRT has had an overwhelming impact on my advocacy experience. Affiliate conferences provide a sense of home away from home and interorganizational meetings promote opportunities to build bridges. The Radiation Therapy Conference's Dear World session emphasized humanity in our expertise and highlighted the most intimate components of professionalism, exemplifying the emotional intellect required of radiation therapists daily. The consensus committee meeting demonstrated bridge building at its finest as our profession attended to the call of action necessary to promote a viable future. Throughout the year, #BeSeenASRT continues to become more real in our efforts to shift the culture of our profession and the perception of the communities we serve.

Closing Remarks:

More than ever, medical imaging and radiation therapy professionals must believe in the equity we have earned over more than a century. The reality of being seen will be best achieved by us being intentional, resilient and fortified together as one profession. We must become increasingly engaged in the evolution of our profession. Our talent in delivering care is more than the technology we use. The dissolution of our profession will not be due to encroachment. If we are not effectively confronting issues and exercising the equity we've earned as contributors, our professional deterioration will be a result of our absence and inaction despite being qualified and formidable in the challenges we're up against.
